

THE BRITISH LIBRARY ENDANGERED ARCHIVES PROGRAMME

ACCESS, PERMISSION AND COPYRIGHT FORM

The Endangered Archives Programme (EAP) funds projects to survey and digitise archives at risk. We operate with the following principles:

- The original archive should remain in its country of origin,
- Digital files created by EAP projects are placed in a suitable institution in the country of origin. Secondary copies of the digital material are archived by the British Library.
- Lower-resolution images and sound recordings will be made available free of charge on the British Library website for research, inspiration and enjoyment.
- Neither EAP nor the British Library will use the digital material created by EAP projects for commercial gain. Requests to use images or recordings for commercial purposes will be referred back to the owners or archival partners for permission.

The person responsible for the archive<sup>1</sup> is asked to allow the Principal Applicant access and to give permission for any digital materials to be made available on the British Library website (see Part A). If the materials are subject to copyright, a copyright agreement must also be signed (see Part B).

PART A – ACCESS AND PERMISSION

The Endangered Archive Programme recognises the rights and interests in intangible cultural heritage, including traditional knowledge and other creative expressions embodied in the archive materials. Therefore, before the digital material is made available on the British Library website we ask for the permission of those who own or are responsible for the archive.

I agree to allow the Principal Applicant _____ to have access to the archive.

I give permission for copies of digital materials produced by the project (reference number above) to be made available on the website of the Endangered Archives Programme.

Does copyright apply to the original materials in the country in which they reside?

Under this licence, the owner of the original material retains the copyright in the digital material, while granting the British Library permission to make it available for non-commercial purposes. This licence also ensures that the owner of the original material is acknowledged as the copyright owner.
